- ☒ claims Nos. 13-72

because:

- ☒ no international search report has been established for the whole application or for said claims Nos. 13-72
- ☐ the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing does not comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions in that:
 - the written form ☐ has not been furnished
 - ☐ does not comply with the standard
 - the computer readable form ☐ has not been furnished

WRITTEN OPINION OF THE
INTERNATIONAL SEARCHING

International application No.

PCT/US2004/020704

Re. Item I

Basis of the opinion

1. This written opinion is based on application claims 1-12 as filed (see Items IV and V below).

Re. Item IV

Lack of unity of invention

1. The present application claims are considered "a priori" and "a posteriori" to contain several lacks of unity according to Rule 13.1 PCT as addressed and detailed in the lack of unity sheet B (Form PCT/ISA/206) which accompanied the original search report. Also as outlined in the said lack of unity Form PCT/ISA/206, the present application claims, and particularly application claim 1, are not considered to be novel and inventive (see Item V below).

The applicant has been invited to either restrict the application claims, or pay the additional fees for the further inventions relating to the said lacks of unity.

At the present moment, only one fee has been received, and consequently this written opinion is for the first invention only relating to application claims 1-12.

Re. Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. The following documents are cited in the present opinion. The numbering will be adhered to during the rest of the proceedings :

The disclosures of D1 (column 1, line 5-22 ; column 2, line 25 - column 6, line 46 ; claims 1-39) are considered to be novelty-attacking for the subject-matter of the present claims 1-12 (Article 33(2) PCT).
